- Fidelity and Surety

Richardson Plowden's Construction Law Practice Group represents clients in all aspects of the construction industry. The Group's focus is on construction litigation, contract review and negotiation, public and private construction-related procurement, and fidelity and surety claims. The Group includes attorneys with extensive backgrounds in construction and engineering, experience that is leveraged to the client's advantage when structuring, negotiating and enforcing contracts, as well as when pursuing or defending claims related to bonds, payment, and delay and acceleration. The team also represents clients in construction and design defect litigation, procurement and bidding disputes, and mechanics liens. The Group is experienced in all areas of Alternative Dispute Resolution procedures including mediation, arbitration and dispute review boards, and handles matter in local, state and federal courts.

We encourage you to contact any of our experienced construction law attorneys listed below.
